SHOOTING AT VILLISTAS AROUND SANTA ISABEL.

Fighting in Progress Between Rebel and Government Troops Fifteen Miles West of Chihuahua City. Withdrawal of Pershing is Expected in the Next Few Days.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

EL PASO, Jan. 18.—Fighting in progress between rebel and government troops in the vicinity of Santa Isabel, about fifteen miles west of Chihuahua city, according to a report brought by passengers from the south, who arrived in Juarez tonight.

Villa, the passengers said, was making his headquarters at San Andres, ten miles farther west. They added that he was reported to have sent couriers into Durango and the territory south of the border.

On the train which left Chihuahua this morning were passengers who came direct from Jimenez, 110 miles farther south.

They said Chihuahua was quiet when they passed through. A band of Villa troops was reported to have been keeping in close touch with the movements of the punitive expedition and does not wish to do anything that will delay its removal, for which he will take the credit, the officers said.

ENTENTE AGREED TO PUSH THE WAR.

CONFERENCE SATISFACTORY, SAY GEN. MAURICE.

British Strategist Declares Allies are Determined not to Accept an Inconclusive Peace.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The recent conference in Rome and London between Entente civil and military leaders developed the utmost harmony and a determination to push the war to a conclusion satisfactory to the Allies, according to the opinion expressed by Maj.-Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the War Office, at the Associated Press today.

"Our enemies," said Gen. Maurice, "are fond of stating that France has tired of the war, while hinting at a separate peace for Russia, but I can say confidently as a result of the return of the delegates from Rome and London, with Gen. Nivelle, that these meetings were much more important in bringing about nearer than any recent military events. These conferences showed the Allies heartily agreed not to accept an inconclusive peace, and that they are as one in their determination to continue the war until the enemy is ready to discuss terms."

In the purely military realm our raids continue with increasing success and diminishing casualties to our attackers, who bring back as many prisoners as our total casualties list, thus putting the enemy's dead and wounded on the plus side of our ledger.

"The enemy's offensive in Rumania has been not only halted, but pushed back a considerable distance, probably due to Russian reinforcements, but weather conditions also may have had a share in halting the Germans."

In connection with a report of the possibility of German troops in Switzerland, Gen. Maurice declared that for such an operation the Germans would be compelled to wait as long as their other fronts, which could only be done at a grave risk.

KILL TRIPOLET REBELS. (BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Tripolitan rebels lost 1000 men in a battle with 16 with Italian troops between the city of Tripoli and the frontier at Ras el Maadi, according to a dispatch from Rome, quoting an Italian official communication.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 18.—Lee A. Ochs, president of the Motion Pictures Exhibitors' League, said today that the public belief that everyone connected with the motion-picture industry was becoming wealthy is a popular fallacy. He declared that proportionately there were as many, if not more, failures in this business than in any other.

Mr. Ochs was the first witness to be called by the State Legislative Committee recently appointed to determine the profits of the motion-picture industry and the advisability of a State tax.

Mr. Ochs declared that it was a fallacy to say that persons in the motion-picture industry were growing rich.

The public thinks that, but it isn't true," he said. He added that four or five years ago the theaters used to have a show lasting from twenty minutes to half an hour and charged 5 cents for it. He said that today there must be a three-act feature and other features causing the show to last two or two and a half hours and that the increase in price charges, 10 or 15 cents is not commensurate with the increased cost of the production.

Mr. Ochs declared three years ago there had been 1818 theaters in the city and today there are only 510.

CLAIM DISCRIMINATION. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Attorneys for film interests protested against the investigation on the ground that it was discriminatory. While all information possible has been given, they said, they felt that the inquiry was only for the purpose of finding out how much money was made and of taxing the industry accordingly.

WIND LOGGING CHAIN ON RAIL.

Apparent Effort Made to Wreck Salt Lake Train as it Passed Through.

(DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 18.—A logging chain, wound three times about a rail on the Salt Lake track, near Fourteenth street, placed with the evident intent of wrecking one of the two limited trains due to pass at this point at 2:40 o'clock, derailed a light gasoline car when it struck the obstruction.

The ends of the chain were bolted together and the nuts screwed up as tightly as possible.

Department officials are inclined to believe the trouble has arisen through a misunderstanding on the part of German authorities, as some of the charges are known to be untrue.

Whether Minister Vopicka will be ordered from Berlin to his post with the Rumanian government at Jassy has not been determined, but he probably will be.

FARRAGUT'S LAST STAFF OFFICER DIES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Capt. Charles H. Baxter, last surviving officer of the staff of Admiral Farragut, died at his home in this city early today at the age of 83 years.

Capt. Baxter was born at Baton Rouge, La., and served as an officer with the British forces during the Sepoy rebellion in India and later the Crimean War and the rebellion in Madagascar. He served as an officer in the American Navy throughout the Civil War.

Pasadena. TOURISTS FILL THE HOTELS.

Best Year in Ten, Say Crown City Landlords.

The Demand for Accommodations Very Unusual.

Ten Private Homes on Oak Knoll Leased.

PASADENA, Jan. 19.—With every train from the East bringing visitors in increasing numbers, and demands for hotel accommodations greater than at any time in the past ten years, Pasadena is now beginning to reap the harvest of the nation-wide publicity campaign inaugurated last fall by D. M. Linnard and other business men of Southern California. With the exception of space reserved for transients, practically all accommodations at the hotels have been taken for February 1 on through the winter season.

The managers of all the leading hotels, D. M. Linnard of the Maryland, Huntington and Green; Walter Raymond of the Raymond; H. M. Fowler of the Vista del Arroyo, and Mrs. E. B. Russell of the Crown, and others, declared yesterday that the influx of visitors is extraordinary at this time.

UPPER FLOORS TAKEN. For the first time in ten years the upper floors of the old wing of the Green will be occupied. With the main building and the twenty-six bungalows full, space has been rented in some fifteen apartment-houses and private dwellings in the vicinity of the Maryland to take care of the overflow there. Ten private homes in the Oak Knoll district, near the Huntington, have been leased for the winter to care for the overflow at that hotel.

Perhaps nowhere in the world will hotel life be so interestingly varied and complex as in Pasadena this season. The guests at the Linnard hotels, for instance, may enjoy regular hotel life, club life, apartment-house life, bungalow existence, home life or country home life. Bungalows at the Altadena Country Club are under the management of the hotel, and the guests of all three hotels have the privileges of the club. A motor bus makes the rounds of the country club and the three hotels hourly during the day and evening. Mr. Linnard's assistants are employed in number about 1000, and his grocery bill for the season will be about $150,000.

DANCING A-PLENTY. Palmer (Cupid) Day has charge of the entertainment feature at the three hotels. Mr. Day has arranged for two dances at the Huntington hotel, and a concert every Sunday evening at each hotel. His plan is to have an entertainment of better sort at one of the hotels every night during the present season.

"Business is of better than it has been for a long time back," Mr. Raymond declared last evening, "and the crowds are coming earlier." Mr. Fowler's cash came fully a month ahead this time. It's the best business for twelve years."

The extraordinary lively season in SEVEN OUT OF TEN SMOKE.

Such is the Claim Regarding School Boys Over 12 in the City of Pomona.

POMONA, Jan. 19.—W. W. Coates, compulsory attendance officer of the city schools, has submitted a report in which he makes the statement that at least 75 per cent. of the boys in this city over 12 years of age use tobacco in some form or other—mainly cigarettes.

He further states that the boys are able to buy the pills at no less than twenty stores in this city where tobacco is sold. He says that many tobacco dealers pay no attention to the fact that the law prohibits the sale of tobacco to boys under 18 years of age.

Mayor Vandegrift has ordered the police to enforce the laws regulating the sale of tobacco to boys.

Pasadena is regarded by the business men as largely due to the rapid-fire expansion of Southern California in the eastern magazines last fall, and in the newspapers of Los Angeles and other cities of the Southland. It will be remembered that delegates from the Chambers of Commerce of the various cities of the Southland and representative business men were called together by Mr. Linnard last fall. The results of the canvass so far as Pasadena is concerned, at least are highly satisfactory and undoubtedly will be used as a criterion next fall.

Glendale. RUNAWAY BOYS.

Tell Harrowing Story of Being Held up and Kidnaped by Highwaymen—Irish Mother Promises Old-fashioned Whipping.

GLENDAL, Jan. 18.—After running away from school with two companions, stealing rides on trucks to San Fernando and walking to Glendale, Michael Karetoff, aged 12, the son of Mrs. L. Karetoff of No. 129 South Rue street, East Los Angeles, was taken into custody today by a member of the Glendale police force and lodged in the City Jail, where he was found this afternoon by his Irish mother.

The boy ran away from the Utah street school this morning with two other boys, and the three started for parts unknown. When they reached San Fernando the other two boys gave up and returned home, but Michael Karetoff, who is "slip," and he, frightened out of the spirit of the adventure by the disappearance of his comrades, started for home and reached Glendale yesterday evening. This morning he was taken into custody and questioned, and first told a harrowing tale of being kidnaped by armed desperadoes, but later owned up to having run away.

When the Irish mother appeared on the scene, accompanied by her oldest son to act as interpreter, she demanded of the police that he be allowed to give her wayward "nine" and "ten" would last him nine years, as they do in the old country. Her request was refused, and she was advised to administer chastisement in the privacy of her own home.

No one in the house heard the shot, as it was muffled by the bed.

Floyd Loveland was born in San Diego, Cal., and came to Portland a year ago. His father lives in San Diego and two sisters are teaching school in California.

The three army aeroplanes which were brought from the North Island aviation base at San Diego were at the aviation base here to night, and the military aviators who were conducting the search were prepared for an early start tomorrow, if the weather permitted. SEEK PAY FOR THEIR LABOR.

Board of Education to File Request for Salary.

Contend that Members do a Great Deal of Work.

Suggest that Ten Dollars be Allowed Each Meeting.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 18.—Members of the Long Beach Board of Education will present a petition to the City Commissioners requesting that in the future they be paid for their services. Heretofore they have served gratuitously. The petition will be presented to the municipal solons for their consideration at their regular semi-weekly meeting tomorrow.

At that time the commissioners will be asked to fix a salary for the school board members, suggested by them at a meeting, with a limit of three meetings a month. There is no fund from which the members can even draw car fare or money for incidental expenses connected with the discharge of their duties at present.

Under the Long Beach city charter members of the Board of Education are designated as city officers, although they have never received, to date, any compensation for their services.

"There are many duties belonging to the office that take up many hours a month in addition to the board meetings," reads the request of the trustees for compensation. "To anyone not familiar with the duties of the office it is difficult to form an adequate conception of the tremendous amount of time involved in the discharge of the manifold duties attached thereto."

"The salary suggested ($10 a meeting) is not sufficient to attract a candidate to seek the office for mercenary reasons; yet it would add to the dignity of the position and constitute a step in line with the action of most of the larger cities of California," continues the communication.

REYNOLDS COMING.

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental Commercial Bank of Chicago, the second largest banking institution in the United States, will be the chief speaker at the annual meeting and banquet of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce at the Virginia Hotel, according to present plans.

President P. E. Hatch of the commercial organization today read a letter at the weekly meeting of the chamber from Mr. Reynolds, stating that the banker and his family expected to come to California in the near future, in which case he would accept the invitation to speak. The date of the banquet will not be set until it is known positively when Mr. Reynolds will arrive here.

The Chinese had never noticed that the animals were bothered with the heavy spears or other ailments peculiar to the equine family, but took the supposed veterinary's word for it and when informed them $15 for the trio it was accepted. W. E. Gaines, a horse trader with some of the proclivities of David Harum, was given a probationary sentence of three years yesterday by Superior Judge Craig for defrauding some Chinese gardeners out of three horses. The Chinese had never noticed that the animals were bothered with the heavy spears or other ailments peculiar to the equine family, but took the supposed veterinary's word for it and when informed them $15 for the trio it was accepted. Gaines took the horses to an agent for the French army and sold them for about $100.

Two Flickers
Police S.O.S.

Chief of Police Butler
yesterday completed arrangements with the power company furnishing the city with light whereby, with their co-operation, a universal signal system will be established between police headquarters and every patrolman.

Hereafter, whenever a big crime or a large fire is reported to headquarters, the telephone operator there will notify the power company supplying light to the district in which the crime or fire occurred.
The power company will then cause the lights of that district to flicker twice.

On seeing the double flicker, all patrolmen are instructed to seek the nearest telephone, get in touch with headquarters, and receive orders for immediate action.

To prevent a misuse of the signal system, the operator at headquarters and the power company officers will use a code.

SCREAMS BRING RESCUER WHO BREAKS INTO HOUSE.

Humane Society for Children
Takes Charge of Wee Prisoner Found Bound with Half-inch Rope and So Well Locked in that Officers had to Force Window.

Screams, loud and persistent,
aroused the neighborhood about No.
1155 East Ninth street yesterday morning. Before that form of excitement had passed, the neighbors saw Mrs. Alice C. Bryce, manager of the Humane Society for Children, with rare agility climb atop a high fence, force open a window and make a flying leap from the fence to the window sill. Then they saw her pass out of the window, into the hands of a waiting policeman, a weeping child whose feet were together and hands bound behind her, but whose lungs were unobstructed and in perfect working order.

A minute later the waiting policeman, the bonds were cut and one company, let the child out of the room. The child was crying and the policeman was crying.

Very early yesterday morning Lucille Payne's mother, who lives at No. 1155 East Ninth street, left home for her work at a downtown hotel. But before she went, according to the story of the neighbors,
she bound the little girl's hand and foot, to make sure Lucille would not get out. Then she locked the door.

So securely that Mrs. Bryce, in effecting the rescue, could not get the child out but the window by which she had entered.

Lucille's adventures began immediately after her mother had departed.
She was unable to walk; there was nothing in the house room to amuse her; there was no water to drink and nothing to eat, and, besides, her hands were securely tied at her back with half-inch rope. Having nothing else to do, she waited with abandon and tenacity.

Soon neighbors were hunting the policeman on the beat and had telephoned the police. But before the Society for Children. But before other help could arrive I. W. Higley happened by Lucille's home. Mr.
Higley is a lower children, and detected something wrong in the little girl's howling. When he could not gain admittance at the front door he resolutely waded through a pool of water between the sidewalk and the window of the little prisoner's room and discovered the trouble.

Neighbors told him the police and humane workers were on their way to the rescue, so Mr. Higley refrained from releasing Lucille. But he got the window open and was met by demand for food and water.

He hurried away and returned with a bag of cookies. When Mrs. Bryce arrived on the scene the child was performing the seemingly impossible stunt of eating a cookie held in one hand that was bound behind her.

When Mrs. Bryce and the policeman entered the room, the child was crying and the policeman was crying.
The result was two falls, which battered her little face.

Only meager information concerning the mother could be gathered.
Mrs. Bryce was taken to the office of the society to wait developments.

HIS WIFE WORRIES.

Robert T. Hale, well-known labor organizer, has been missing from home for three days and police are asked to help find him.

Robert T. Hale, an investment broker of No. 811 North Prichard street, and for several years president of the City Teamsters and Laborers, has been missing from home for three days. Yesterday his wife appealed to the police for assistance. According to close friends he is at present engaged in securing a connected with the charges against Councilman Topham, who is alleged to have violated bonds for plumbers. Detectives Kline and Hloek were unable to locate any trace of the missing man yesterday.

Mr. Hale is well known at the City Hall, has frequently been pioneered the cause of the laborers of the city. He organized them and secured for them the same privileges accorded other city employees.

Mr. Hale recently had the Board of Public Works make an inquiry into charges that a foreman in the street repair department padded the pay rolls and took city cement and other materials.

The charges were not sustained.

CONDEMNATION
PLAN ADOPTED.

City to Attach Los Angeles
Gas and Electric.

Following a Flat Refusal to Sell its System.

Realty Board may About Face on Big Bond Issue.

Proceedings will be started immediately to condemn the electrical distributing system of the Los Angeles
Gas and Electric Corporation, Mayor
Woodman said yesterday evening, following a meeting at the offices of the Board of Public Service Commissioners.
The commissioners will today request the Council to ask the City Attorney to institute condemnation proceedings.

This means the State Railroad Commission will be asked to fix the valuation and then the Superior Court will pass on the legal points, but it will have no jurisdiction over the price. The city will not seek to condemn the gas system at present, but the proceedings will include fixing a valuation for the steam generating plant.

The Mayor stated that at a meeting held by the Realty Board yesterday vice-president Champ Vance and Attorney Herbert Goudge, representing the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, said the company would not sell its system to the city as the city wishes to secure a complete monopoly of the power business in Los Angeles.

POSITION MADE CLEAR.
A few days ago the Board of Public Service Commissioners decided to start negotiations to purchase the company's street-lighting system.
At the Realty Board meeting vice-president Vance said the company will not sell any portion of its plant and if the city wants to get it will have to take it.

CHINA CANNOT BE CONQUERED.

Bishop Bashford, Here, Sees Great Future Power.

Present Weakness Due to the Famous Missionary Believes in New Republic.

Whatever the present condition of the immediate future of the new Chinese republic, it can never be permanently overthrown nor its individuality as a nation and a future great independent power destroyed in the opinion of Bishop James W. Bashford of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who returned yesterday to Los Angeles from China. He is considered the most prominent Christian missionary in China, where he has spent twelve years.

That the domestic situation in China has very much improved since Li Yuan Hung became President, is a well-known fact," he said. "Yuan Shi Kai attempted to restore the monarchy. This attempt was due in some measure to foreign advice, and possibly pressure, but largely to his own family and personal ambitions. The very large and widespread opposition to the restoration of the monarchy led Yuan Shi Kai later to abandon the attempt and to continue faithful to the republic to his death. But the attempt lost the late President the confidence of the progressive element in China.

Li Yuan Hung is known to be devoted to the republic. Consequently, the central government has disappeared since his succession to the republic to his death. But the attempt

CHANCE STOPS BOLD SWINDLE.

Alleged Bunko Men Just Miss
Fifty Thousand Dollars.

When Victim Talks to Police to "Save" One of Them.

Illinois Lawyer-Banker is Decoyed with Stocks.

Odds against which a bunko man works were well exemplified yesterday at the Central Police Station, when a supposed $50,000 swindle was exposed by the intended victim, W. J. Walker, retired lawyer and banker of Galesburg, Ill., whose interest was entirely in behalf of one of the alleged swindlers, whom he thought he was protecting. The incident probably saved Mr. Walker the $50,000.

Mr. Walker and his daughter, Miss Wilma M. Walker, arrived here several weeks ago. They did not know anyone in the city. As they were leaving a cafe at 10th and Hill streets Saturday a handsome brunette woman approached Miss Walker and asked her about certain places of interest.

Miss Walker had to plead ignorance. The stranger said she, too, was unacquainted with places of interest, and they agreed it would be pleasant to make a tour together. Monday the woman and two strangers appeared at the apartment hotel where Miss Walker lived, and invited her to go for an automobile ride. She said her father would have to accompany her. The consent was given with alacrity.

On the trip the two strangers men discussed stocks with great familiarity and acted as hosts at a round of entertainments in the beach town. Tuesday one man, known as Wingfield, suggested there was much money to be made in Colorado Fuel and Iron stock. One of the supposed strangers, named Wilson, offered to buy some. Wilson supposedly went to Wingfield's office and shortly returned with $475. It was represented he had realized on a $275 investment.

Yesterday Wilson, who was with Mr. Walker, invested $50,000 in a stock, giving his check as security. He "won" $125,000, and the money was shown to Mr. Walker in large bills.

But before Wingfield would turn over the money Wilson had first to show he was earnest about the purchase by proving the $50,000 check. Wilson pretended great alarm, for he said he was president of a Colorado bank and if the bank examiners found he was speculating in stock, they would cancel the bonds of the bank and make things unpleasant for him.

He told his new friend, Mr. Walker, what a shame it was to lose $125,000, and offered to split with Mr. Walker if the latter would secure the necessary money.

Mr. Walker went out to get the money, but on the way began to think Wingfield was a crook, so he went to the Police Station to tell his suspicions. When Lieutenant of Detectives Home heard the story, the situation was so similar to those in which he had saved prospective victims $150,000 during the past year, that he at once assigned men to accompany Mr. Walker to the office. When they arrived there Wingfield and Wilson were both gone.

Mr. Walker was quite uncertain what had occurred, but the police are convinced a new gang of bunko men is enroute here, and will attempt to round them up.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Cayot was wrapping up an order including several potatoes and sugar when two men entered the store, each dressed in a long black overcoat pulled up about his face.

At the points of their guns they ordered Mr. Cayot to hold up his hands. Mr. Cayot obeyed.

While one man covered him the other tapped the cash register, taking $15 in change. Then both fled. Mr. Cayot was unable to give a detailed description of the two men other than that both were tall and dressed in black overcoats.

William Weightman, Virginia millionaire, registered at the Van Nuys, banqueting eighteen motorcycle police officers yesterday evening. It all happened because two of their number had been good to him. While on his way in his motor to keep a very important engagement, the policemen stopped him. Mr. Weightman told his need for speed, gave them his card and agreed to appear in court later.

The officers, impressed with his sincerity, suggested the court impose the minimum instead of maximum fine and because of the courteous treatment accorded him, the millionaire invited all of the force that could get away to be his guests at a real dinner.

Needed—
STRAW BOND ACT.

Supervisors Order County Counsel to Draft Bill Making Stringent Regulations for Bail-givers with Adequate Punishment for Violators.

The alarming extent to which the county has been mulcted by straw bonds, amounting in the past year to the sum of about $20,000, caused the Board of Supervisors to instruct the County Counsel to prepare the draft of an act amending the section of the Penal Code pertaining to the furnishing of bonds. This draft was drawn by Deputy County Counsel Farley and sent to the Legislature last night to be presented at this session.

The act is intended to stamp out the practice of giving straw bonds. It provides that magistrates accepting bail bonds must file notice with the County Recorder and that the filing of this notice will make the bail bond a lien on the property as long as the man who signs the bond are on it.

Heretofore bondsmen did not have to sign any statement of the property they claimed they owned. All that was required was the statement that they believed they were worth so much. The proposed act provides that an accurate description of the property claimed to be owned by bondsmen must be stated, the condition of the title and whether or not the property is mortgaged. The act also provides for severe false statements drastic punishment for perjury.

WE'LL HAVE A REGULAR
"CHILDS RESTAURANT."

There is a saying in New York City that you can't get out of sight of a "Childs restaurant."

Whether this will ever be true in downtown Los Angeles may be left to the future, but the fact remains that the first "Childs restaurant" of the Pacific Coast is about to be established by the big Gotham restaurant corporation in Los Angeles.

The place, which is to be finished and appointed with all the attractiveness of the popular-priced eating establishments so familiar to anyone who has ever visited the eastern metropolis, will be opened at Nos. 444 and 446 South Spring street. The Childs Company, Inc., of New York, closed a lease yesterday for this property, which consists of a three-story brick building, occupying fifty feet of frontage. The contract calls for a term of twenty-one years, and was negotiated through the agency of W. H. Harris, with Thomas C. Bundy & Co., Olga S. Kiefer is the owner of the building and site.

The eastern concern will, it is understood, pay a total rental consideration of $200,000 for the use of the building. More than $50,000 will be expended on the remodeling of the structure for restaurant purposes, the whole interior being finished in marble and tile. J. C. Wervelt, a New York architect who designed most of the eastern restaurants of the company, will prepare plans for the new Los Angeles place.

The Childs company has more than 100 restaurants in New York City alone, and has carried its business to all the larger cities of the East, South and Middle West, boasting also many establishments in the cities of Canada. After a careful survey of the Pacific Coast its representatives came to the conclusion that Los Angeles offered the ideal field for a beginning of business this side of the Rockies.

Look for the Childs.

BETTER SALOON OR ABOLISH IT.

Policy is Defined by Grape Protective Forces.

List of Drastic Reforms is Urged as Imperative.

Otherwise Organization will Back Anti-Bar Cause.

The California Grape Protective Association, that is against total prohibition, yesterday issued in regard to its attitude and policy a statement in part as follows:

This association is not added to the American saloon. It believes the evils of the present system could be practically eliminated if the people would awaken from their provincialism and follow the example of continental Europe. In the cafes and gardens of Germany, France, Italy, Spain, etc., where men and women, priest, rabbi and minister, congregate to sip light wines and beers and to while away a few hours in pleasant converse, drunkenness is unknown and even occasional intoxication is extremely uncommon.

In those countries, the evils of the liquor traffic, as we know them, are non-existent.

The California Grape Protective Association declares the saloon must either be reformed drastically or must be eliminated as a means of distribution; and this association pledges itself to aid such reform with all its strength and whatever influence it may have; but if the saloon be not reformed thoroughly this association will stand for its entire abolition.

The association is in favor of: High license and a sweeping reduction of saloons, not more than one to every 1000 of the population in any place.

Total elimination of dives and disreputable cafes, "side entrances" and private rooms of any character.

Elimination of saloons from the residence districts of any city, and a law that wine merchants, wholesale liquor dealers and brewers should not be permitted to have any financial or other control or partnership interest in any saloon, and that no man in any way interested in liquor-selling should be permitted to go upon the bond of a saloon-keeper.

Midnight and Sunday closing. Enforcement of a rule that no intoxication should be stated with liquor under any circumstances.

A very heavy fine for the first offense against any liquor regulation and enactment of a law that upon the second offense not only shall the owner and manager of the offending establishment never again be allowed to have a license to sell liquor, but also shall be liable for the cost of the liquor sold, but that the building in which said second offense has occurred never again, under any circumstances, shall be permitted to be used for liquor-selling.

And if some such regulations are not enacted and strictly enforced, the California Grape Protective Association will be in favor of driving the saloons out of this State.

"POKER" DAVIS AT IT AGAIN.

Nocturnal Sporting Man is Arrested with Bag of Thirty-three.

Afternoon card playing has been quite the vogue until word of its existence reached Sergt. H. J. Toomey of the metropolitan squad, who made two successful raids yesterday. Among his victims was "Poker" Davis, one of the most widely-known sporting men in the West.

Davis was arrested with twenty players at No. 221 West Fourth street. Under Sergt. Toomey, the raiders entered the place while the cards were fitting and money was on the tables.

Then the raiders went to No. 437 South Broadway, where they raided another den, putting under arrest twelve players.

All the players gave bail, and were released under varying sums. A dozen more raids are planned.

MUST HURRY UP.
Collector Carter, of the Internal Revenue Department, issued notice yesterday that those who have had excess income tax withheld at the source, must file a claim for the deduction with the collector or the holding agent on or before the 31st inst.

RECEIPT DOES NOT PROVE PAYMENT.

JUDGE SCORES CONTRACTOR
FOR ALLEGED FRAUD.

Perjury and other serious charges started into the trial of G. Torre, contractor, yesterday before Police Judge Chesbro when Deputy City Prosecutor John J. Hill, Jr. prosecuted him on a charge of giving a non-negotiable instrument in payment for labor.

The complaining witness was G. M. Stoddard, who testified he and his partner had been hired by Mr. Torre at a wage of $10 a day from October 16 to 27. When the work was done, Mr. Torre gave Stoddard a check post-dated November 11.

According to the evidence produced in court by witnesses, Mr. Torre asked Mr. Stoddard to write his name and address on a sheet of paper, that the money might be forwarded. Mr. Stoddard obliged.

When the case was presented in court, Mr. Torre's attorney, Mr. Torchia, presented a receipt bearing Mr. Stoddard's signature. The latter alleged this signature was the one he had subscribed to a blank piece of paper.

Police Judge Chesbro found Mr. Torre guilty of having paid an employee with a non-negotiable instrument, and censured him severely regarding the receipt.

Further prosecution regarding the receipt will be made in the police courts. Mr. Torre was ordered to pay the money due Mr. Stoddard at once. He will be sentenced today.

John Christfield Donnell, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Newark, N. J., and has two brothers, Horace and Birney Donnell, in Pasadena.

The marriage was a fashionable church event in Waban, an exclusive suburb of Boston, where the bride's father, Rev. F. L. I. assisted the resident rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Dr. Sharp, as officiant. The decorations were in white, with arches of roses and a solid floral altar making an effective background for the bride in her elegant gown of white panne velvet, chiffon and rare old point lace—her bedroom wear. It was made with court train. Miss Clara Wiley, her debutante sister, in a French creation of shaded rose and six bridesmaids in peach-blossom satin frocks embroidered in silver that matched their chaparral, formed the bridal party, with little Elizabeth Arent (whose mother, Mrs. Sarah Butterfield Arent, often visits California) and in now erecting a home at Coronado) doing the honors as flower maid.

Immediately following the service a large reception was held at the Bane-Burn Country Club. The symphony orchestra played. Neither Mrs. Patterson nor Miss Wiley went on for the nuptial. The young couple is to live in Newark where they will be at home April 16.

AMID THE SHOPS AND WITH THE SHOPPERS.

BY OLIVE GRAY.
Now is the time to buy! The odd piece of costume jewelry which will give the wanted touch to suit, frock or dinner gown. After-holiday sales are still in effect, where you may find the wished-for piece. The handsome negligee which you have wanted. Those of the better sort have been reduced to truly bargain cost in that place where such creations are unique and beautiful. Furs for next season's use as well as for several months to come. The prices in at least one clearance sale are such as to mean great savings. Furs are now as much a part of summer wardrobes as for winter wear.

That should be named the Harry Carr? said I, the moment I set eyes on it. What else could it be, with that big checker-board in black and white? The most ultra thing in sports suits. The entire cost is of checker-board, life-size; and around the lower edge of the white skirt, a band is stationery—military band, of course—also in checker-board. It is, in fact, the very latest "news from the seat of war"—rattling and least importation from the Queen-dome of La Mode.

Can there be anything checker-board which will not henceforth make us think of Harry Carr? Men's Pencils. The man who has tried every sort of pencil and has lost the lead from the silver ones and found the points always broken in the ordinary kind, will be glad to learn of a new pencil, Thomas H. Fisher, made for instant use. The lead does not lose out, while your back is turned, nor does it need to be sharpened, as leads are wont to do. It is said by those who have tested this new pencil that it needs no resharpening, but stilling many months of constant use, and that it does not cause wear and tear upon the disposition.

Shoe Sales! It actually begins to look as though, locally at least, the high cost of shoeing is to be reduced. There are several sales in progress, and shoes are offered at a comparatively reasonable price. More Ornate. On the other hand shoes are becoming more ornate in finish and trimming. Some are bedecked with beads and embroidery and the latest shown are "clocked" in embroidery at either side, like hats.

Candy Chopin. Since it has at last been decided that candy is not, after all, injurious to the government having after mature deliberation, it is a fixed part of the military ration—children may have candy. Prudent mammae are given to watching the candy sales in several of the big stores where they may obtain perfectly pure and delicious candies at the planter's cost, at a few cents per pound. Such sales are becoming more and more frequent, and of necessity, the candy will be good. The other day, that big store on lower Broadway, held such a sale and in the windows the confections were so handsomely displayed.

Household Hint. Into the liquor in which salt meat has been boiled put one or two sliced carrots, set the kettle away to cool and the vegetables will absorb the salt, leaving a good stock for soup.

Garden Planting. To plant the flower and vegetable gardens is both an amusement and a source during the cold, wet days of now. Such plans also result in garden betterment, for the half-planned garden is usually unsatisfactory. Especially in the city, every foot of ground should be made to do its best and this can be accomplished only by careful choice of seeds and plants.

Ready to Go. Betty Rose Clarke, who has the role of Laura Bartlett in "Fair and Warmer" at the Mason, spent last night in London, playing the lead in "Kick In." She is an ardent peace advocate, and during her London sojourn, devoted her spare time to doing what she could for the soldiers, appearing several times at benefit performances and helping to entertain invalided Tommies at tea. She made warm friends among the Irish colonels who she might send him men. "Send them mouth or ears, as they will, and I'll make it make them really happy, send them a portable graphophone," she did from a letter from the gallant Irish officer informed Miss Clarke yesterday.

Many a Tommy has been wounded by a bullet back to the trenches after the mouth organ he had left behind. Miss Clarke says she hopes the reports are exaggerated.

By Edwin Schallert.
"Around the world in eighty days" has been transcribed by Max Rabinoff, the transcontinental opera impresario, into around the United States in twenty. He is making a whirlwind trip in the interest of the tour of the Boston-National Grand Opera Company, and stopped off yesterday in this city to have a few hours' chat with L. E. Behrmer, manager of local attractions, regarding the forthcoming season of the Boston-National Grand Opera Company.

Intentionally Mr. Rabinoff's trip is to further the campaign for the uplift of opera through the performance of a well rounded, through-out. As time's wheel turns on, and more of the technical business details are lifted from his shoulders, he will carry out this with increasing zeal. He is firm in his desire, through his production, to revolutionize the scope of the lyric art, and lessen the baneful influence of the star system. His season last year he demonstrated the worth of his idea to the utmost, and in the end remarkable results were accomplished in winning popular approval. In the East I have already received tremendous support this year for my plan, especially in cities like Cleveland, Cincinnati and Baltimore, and I am Rabinoff yesterday. In Cleveland the Musical Art Association is ready to accept his plan with financial assistance to the

RIALTO.

Running Races.
PARANOUT SIGNS UP ROSCOE ARBUCKLE.
The open season for signing and releasing of picture stars would appear to be upon us. The William Fox Company and the Paramount seem to be running a race as collectors of rare actors. First Fox signs Dustin Farnum and appears to be a lap ahead. Then Paramount signs up Margaret Livingston, and points to meet with pride. Yesterday Paramount scored another point by securing Roscoe Arbuckle, news of which was received at the Lasky Studio yesterday. While Arbuckle will probably continue under the management of Joseph Schenck, his program, released on the Paramount program, his first feature will be ready for release about March 1.

Cross Your Fingers.
A whale ninety feet long was blubbered through to St. Roder to permit himself to be caught, about a hundred miles southwest of Long Beach recently, and was set up and landed in town the week after. It was offered at the market yesterday and Mrs. Kathleen Clifford, now at Balboa star, gave a party last night, while meat being the place for resistance. All the guests agreed that whale is good for you.

Mystery Men.
The Morisco Theater is to have a new leading woman. Ruth Robinson will return to New York, following a presentation of "Jane O'Day of Broadway," afterward renamed "Broadway and Butterflies." Miss Robinson is engaged for the leading part in a new production of New York's Broadway. Who will succeed Miss Robinson is a matter of conjecture.

Family Jewels Discounted.
Jewels are now completely in the discard. A callous world is indifferent to how many diamonds an actress wears. Animals are now the thing. "Lola" May, the charming ingenue of the Morisco company, mourns the loss of a pet cat. Yen-Tah-Yah has wandered away from her and board. At least Yen-Tah-Yah has a sense of the dramatic, since he wandered up to Miss May's bungalow steps one dark and stormy night, and left on just such another occasion. Miss May offers a substantial reward for the return of her cat, which is black, answers swiftly to its name, and has a cultured, aristocratic, which craves Japanese perfections.

Gloom Chases Arrive.
If Hollywood doesn't respond with laughter it isn't the film maker's fault. Another comedy company is shortly to begin work. Hughes Mack Vitagraph comedies are to be made in the Hollywood Vitagraph studios hereafter, the company to arrive in town today.

Real Heroine and Everything.
The small boy who appears with Clara Kimball Young in "The Foolish Virgin," at Tally's Broadway, has been lost in the woods during the taking of the scene in which he is supposed to wander away. Miss Young didn't let it wring her hands, either, as she does in the picture. She got busy and fell in line with the redoubt party, and herself, scratched and bleeding from crawling amid the briars, brought the little fellow safe back to camp.

In Cleveland the Musical Art Association is ready to accept his plan with financial assistance to the sum of $50,000 in our work. Similar to other cities have come to the support of the Boston-National company. I am carrying out my program for enlisting popular assistance in other large cities. The company Mr. Rabinoff will bring out this year will be even more notable and larger than last year in the matter of principals. Besides Zenatello, Martin, Maggie Turek, Tamaki Miura, the Japanese soprano; Mardones Chalmers and Mary, his list will include Leta Villani, Mabel Hieglmann, Rabinoff, Tovia Kittay, Edith Laveroni and Lazari, the Spanish bass. Conductors will be Robert Morosani and Fulgencio Guerrieri.

Composers' Evening.
The way of the composer has always been hard, but it is being made somewhat easier locally by the efforts of the musical clubs to bring local talent before the public. The Matinee Musical Club was the first organization to institute a regular department devoted to this purpose, and they have consistently carried on the work with periodical recitals since that time. The most pretentious, as well as the most worthy, programme ever presented by this club, was offered last night at the Little Theater. The occasion was particularly fortunate in the presence of Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is undoubtedly the farthest advanced on the success highway of any composer residing in this city. While several of his popular songs graced the programme, the particular interest in Cadman last night was in the direct and down-to-facts talk he gave on the relation of composer to publisher. He pointed out that the American publisher is not actuated in his purchases through desire for financial harvest, but here many compositions to heighten the tone of his catalogue. "While this is the case," said Mr. Cadman, "the best opportunity for the young composer lies in submitting works in the smaller forms, songs being the best way to open the door. He also urged the avoidance of the ultra-modern in composition and the common-place as well. "The poor old tune is worn out with overuse," he said.

The beauty of nature were presented in prettily axiled form by Fannie Dillon and Monica Lenz Bonaford, the former in her piano compositions and the latter in her songs, rendered with feeling and charm by May Macdonald Hope. Miss Dillon's "The Dancer" has breadth and color which belongs to the era of song, and Mrs. Bonaford's "The Spring Fling Tree" and "Der Mond" were both rich in natural and spiritual suggestion.

The work of the well-schooled musician was apparent in three attractive songs by Vernon Spencer, given by Orlando Gert. Miss Ruth May Shaffer brought a touch of delicacy and lightness in her compositions, sung by Miss Gertrude Van Coten. That excellent violinist, Christian Timmer, with Hing Kinser, the composer, of the place, presented a brilliant and formally effective violin and piano sonata. Carl Brown opened the programme with three numbers of California atmosphere for the piano. "The Mission Bell" being especially attractive. Miss Alice Dorn pleased with her presentation of the Cadman songs.

Washington Pierce gave an interesting talk on music and musicians. Today's Events. The symphony concert this afternoon will feature the first presentation of Cadman's "Thunderbird Suite." Frank Patterson's opera, "The Little Girl at Play," will be given in the evening at the Little Theater. The Little Girl at Play, will be given in the evening at the Little Theater.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF LAWSON.

Suppose—just suppose—that Leaky Lawson did not draw on his imagination for his facts and that Son-in-law McAdoo did avail himself of information imparted to him in strict confidence by Secretary Tamm, who got it from Count von Bernstorff, who received it from Count von Bernstorff, and with it successfully bucked the stock market.

Who suffered by Secretary McAdoo playing the market—if he did play it? Not the government of the United States for its treasury was in no wise affected thereby. Not the bond-holders of stocks, who did not sell them. They lost—on paper—when the news was made public, and they would have lost just the same if its publication had been delayed a few days. Not the bond-holders of stocks who sold them, for the market was higher for their holding than they would if they had waited until the news was made public. The sufferers were the buyers who paid more for their purchases than if they had waited a few days, or to speak with entire accuracy, the sufferers were the Wall Street gamblers who bet that the market would go up, and the gamblers were the gamblers who bet that the market would go down. The government of the United States neither made nor lost a dollar by Secretary McAdoo's coup—if he made a coup. Neither McAdoo nor Henry nor Tamm did anything to produce the confusion in the market, but they created a bear market in Wall Street. Kaiser Wilhelm's note, transmitted through von Bernstorff to Wilson, was what depressed the prices of stocks in New York. If the Kaiser had shorted the New York market (maybe he did) and then issued the note he would have been guilty of something, but he did not. He was merely a private fortune. Von Bernstorff is not criticized for selling a lot of stocks short before he handed Wilhelm's letter to Lansing. Why should Son-in-law McAdoo be denounced bitterly for availing himself of information with respect to the Kaiser's letter when he had nothing on earth to do directly or indirectly with procuring that letter?

The foundation of the immense Rothschild fortune was laid when Nathan Mayer Rothschild, the London banker, who was present at the battle of Waterloo, by the employment of carrier pigeons and fast-selling bonds, transmitted to London private information of Wellington's success and made an immense profit by the purchase of stock which had been greatly depressed on account of the news of Blucher's defeat two days previously. If Rothschild had possessed the power to control the armies of the combatants and had shorted the market, and then fixed it for his profit to lose, or went long on the market, and then fixed it for Napoleon to lose, he would have made a criminal misuse of the power with which he was entrusted. As it was, he simply availed himself of knowledge he acquired a little in advance of his being given access to public information. He knew it was no part of his duty to disclose to the world.

A lofty sense of honor, a keen appreciation of the high duties he owed to his exalted position as Secretary and son-in-law, might have caused Mr. McAdoo to refuse to divulge the contents of the Kaiser's letter, but he did not. He was merely a private fortune. Von Bernstorff is not criticized for selling a lot of stocks short before he handed Wilhelm's letter to Lansing. Why should Son-in-law McAdoo be denounced bitterly for availing himself of information with respect to the Kaiser's letter when he had nothing on earth to do directly or indirectly with procuring that letter?

The foundation of the immense Rothschild fortune was laid when Nathan Mayer Rothschild, the London banker, who was present at the battle of Waterloo, by the employment of carrier pigeons and fast-selling bonds, transmitted to London private information of Wellington's success and made an immense profit by the purchase of stock which had been greatly depressed on account of the news of Blucher's defeat two days previously. If Rothschild had possessed the power to control the armies of the combatants and had shorted the market, and then fixed it for his profit to lose, or went long on the market, and then fixed it for Napoleon to lose, he would have made a criminal misuse of the power with which he was entrusted. As it was, he simply availed himself of knowledge he acquired a little in advance of his being given access to public information. He knew it was no part of his duty to disclose to the world.

A lofty sense of honor, a keen appreciation of the high duties he owed to his exalted position as Secretary and son-in-law, might have caused Mr. McAdoo to refuse to divulge the contents of the Kaiser's letter, but he did not. He was merely a private fortune. Von Bernstorff is not criticized for selling a lot of stocks short before he handed Wilhelm's letter to Lansing. STREAKS OF WIT.

Noncommittal. "Altogether, if I told you I loved you dearly, that there was no other girl in all the world for me, would you promise to be mine?"

"Would you mind telling me first whether that is a proposal or a hypothetical question?"

A Talkative Wife. [Judge:] Mrs. Bigby (relating her experience with a burglar: "I heard a sort of noise and saw a pair of feet sticking out from under the bed."

Caller: Gracious! Burglar! Mrs. Bigby: No, my husband's. He had heard the noise, too.

A Good Defense. [Louisville Courier-Journal:] "There you! What do you mean by telling that red-headed bachelor friend of yours that marriage is all a lottery?"

"I was just about to assure him, dear, that I was his prize."

Had Good Authority. [Tit Bits:] A schoolmistress asked her class to explain the word "bachelor" and was very much amused when a little girl answered: "A bachelor is a very happy man."

"Where did you learn that?" asked the mistress.

"Father told me," the little girl replied.

A New Definition. [Indianapolis Star:] Little Mildred: What does "B. A." stand for, mamma?

Mamma: Bachelor of arts, my dear.

Little Mildred: And what is bachelor of arts, mamma?

Mamma: Any bachelor who is trying to stay in the bachelor class, darling.

Afraid of It. [Yonkers Statesman:] Bill: Opportunity is knocking at your door daily, you know.

Jill: Well, I don't pay any attention to "knockers," and if I did, like as not he'd try to unload some new novelty or encyclopedia on me.

Squeeze the Water Out. [Pittsburgh Post:] "What is this?"

"A letter press. What did you think it was?"

"I was in hopes you had decided to put the clock back, and were trying to paddle through a wringer."

Ought to Be. [Puck:] "Bobson? I hardly know him."

"Why, he said that he was thoroughly acquainted with you."

"He is—he married my former wife!"

RIPPLING RHYMES.

PROMOTED.

"J. Rufus Jinks is stepping high, the light of his eye is in his eye, and peace is thrown upon his brow. He is a grand old man, and the local paper printed this concerning Rufus and his bliss," said "Paraphrase that old fellow will now set up a good cheer, since this promotion he has won and is the grand old of a son." I found him at the corner of the street, where he was seated, grim and sore. He didn't prance around with glee or show new brands of ecstasy. "I am not filled with glee, I feel like the twenty cents," he sighed. "I always held that I was young until this new brand was sprung; now such pretensions are no use; posterity has soaked my youth. When I was young, I was given name you might as well for-sake the game; though you may try, you can't bring to make folks think you're not all in. It is no use glad clothes to wear; it is no use to dye my hair; it is no use for me to say how like a colt I feel to-day. The more I would merely grin and scowl, for all men see where I get off. I bend beneath this worst of strokes and will not pass around the smokes."

NOTE BOOK.

BY LEE PAGE.

This afternoon Mrs. News came to see me. Mrs. News being a fat lady with a very high nose and not around her ears, and she got all dressed up and made me put on another collar and wash my hands and face all over again, and was Mrs. News came, and she went up in the setting room, me following them, and they started to talk about what they were going to do in the church fair, and after a while I said, Mrs. News.

In this your little boy, said Mrs. News, and she said, Mrs. News, and Mrs. News said Dear me, I am sweet.

Yes, ma, I said.

You may not get and play now, Benny, and I said, I just wanted to tell you about something funny happened to me.

Some other time, now go out and play like a good boy, said ma.

O, do let the little angel tell me, said Mrs. News, I'm sure it's something to chuckle over.

It's about blowing my nose, I said.

I was walking along and all of a sudden I had to blow my nose fierce and I didn't have any handkerchief or anything, and I kept getting worse and worse and what do you think I did?

Dear me, heaving, said Mrs. News. Never mind, never mind, for never say you got and play, said ma.

Yes, ma, what do you think I did?

Children should be seen and not heard, said Mrs. News.

Oh, give you a guess what I did. I'll give you a guess, I said.

Now Benny, your father shall hear of the rest of your passage so they can say the alphabet backward? I think this is new, as I am the inventor, and it is some use in exercising on the typewriter for nothing else. The twenty-six letters of the alphabet are divided into five groups of four letters and one group of six. The groups are connected as follows: Zebra, Yoked, Xylophones Whacked, Volcanic United To Singsong, and so on. Read Quick, Pass On! SCIENCE, INDUSTRY.

Harnessing a Volcano.

Engineering contains an interesting article by Prof. Luigi on the utilization of volcanic heat for power-production purposes.

The idea of utilizing volcanic heat to drive an important electric power-house of 15,000 horsepower might have been considered Utopian in ordinary conditions. It has, however, become a reality—and a successful one—in these hard times, when the price of coal has reached in Italy incredible figures.

The installation had this origin: As is well known, in central Tuscany, near Volterra, there are numerous cracks in the ground, from which powerful jets of very hot steam spout high in the air with great violence and constancy, bringing up boracic acid, which is very valuable—and other mineral substances of less importance. These powerful jets of superheated steam are called "fiumi," the "rivers" of the volcanic world.

Experiment made very accurately demonstrate that each bore can provide steam at a temperature of at least 150 deg. C., and at the rate from 15,000 to 25,000 kg. per hour, that is, practically, from about 1000 to 2000 theoretical horse power per hour. This near Larderello there is the possibility of developing motive power up to thousands and thousands of horsepower. Encouraged by these results, Prince Giorio-Conti, the president of the Societa Boracifera di Larderello, was the first, in 1903, to try to utilize this superheated steam for the production of motive power.

FOOD ORDINANCE TO BE MODIFIED.

MEASURES WHICH DRUGGISTS OPPOSED STILL IN IT.

Premises on Which Hot Foods are Sold Must Have Kitchens Isolated from Other Rooms—Objections of Confectioners and Grocers are Partially Met.

After modifying Health Commissioner Power's ordinance in several particulars the Health and Sanitation Committee yesterday decided to recommend to the Council that the City Attorney be instructed to redraft the new ordinance regulating places where food is sold.

Not all the objections urged by the druggists are to be eliminated. The ordinance will still contain the provision that there must be kitchen on the premises where hot foods are sold and that these kitchens must be isolated from places where other things than foodstuffs are stored. Places where only cold sandwiches, cold pie and other cold articles are sold need not have kitchen. Clause objected to by confectioners and grocers have either been dropped or modified.

ORDER TO ECONOMIC MUST NOT DISCRIMINATE.

An order was issued by the Board of Public Utilities yesterday directing the Economic Gas Company to furnish without discrimination all its customers with a natural gas of uniform value and to reduce their consumption to the company's ability to serve without causing a possible interruption.

The board adopted a resolution stating that it was shown at the hearing Tuesday that there is a sufficient quantity of gas in the fields to supply all the present needs of the Economic Company, but that the facilities for collecting gas in the field are not sufficient to deliver the total amount of the company's present requirements.

The order was issued, the board says, because, in spite of the limiting conditions in the field for obtaining the quantity of gas developed, the Economic Gas Company has continued to take on new consumers until it has reached a point of demand on its system which is greater than the limit of the facilities in the field for delivery during a severe cold snap.

WEED TAX LAW.

RECOMMEND REPEAL.

The repeal of the lot-cleaning ordinance will be recommended to the Council today by the Public Works Committee at the request of the Board of Public Works. Councilman Topham, chairman of the committee, thinks such action will be a step backward, but the committee sees nothing serious in view of the great dissatisfaction caused by the present method.

Hundreds of complaints have been lodged with the Board of Public Works regarding the weed tax and it is considered that to operate under the present ordinance, which exacts that owners are required to clean up their property upon receiving notice from the city.

Cooling Tower.

In order to reduce the consumption of water at the sewage plant the Pacific Reduction Company yesterday agreed, at a conference with the Finance Committee, to build a water-cooling tower.

Terminal Island Resort.

The Harbor Commission yesterday issued a revocable permit to the promoters who are to establish an amusement resort on Terminal Island. The permit covers a stretch of sandy beach 2000 feet long on Beside avenue.

Saturday Off.

The City Attorney yesterday was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing that the Council may meet only five days a week instead of six, as authorized by the charter amendment just ratified by the Legislature.

Regist Proposed.

In order to shorten and clarify property descriptions for the purposes of assessment and in the interests of economy County Tax Collector Welch has proposed to register the real properties of the entire county. The cost of replating in Los Angeles is estimated at $11,500 and Councilman Conwell will today introduce a resolution providing for co-operation and pledging the city to bear a proportionate share of the expense.

Fire Protection.

Fire protection is to be installed at the Normal High Center Building, where the offices of a number of city departments are located. The Council yesterday appropriated $899.94 for the work.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Public Works was instructed to install heating apparatus in the San Pedro court room, where daily sessions are to be held after the closing of the University court Monday.

The City Attorney's communication with reference to electing Councilmen by districts and in regard to the power charter amendment will be a special order of business in committee of the whole this morning.

TO HIS LAST REST.

Conduct Funeral Services for Arizona Mining Man Here.

Funeral services for Matthew Wartenberg, 36 years of age, of Bismarck, Ariz., and former resident of Los Angeles, who died in the Arizona city last Monday, were conducted at the chapel of Faris-Carmichael company yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Elks. Interment was at the Home of Peace Cemetery.

Mr. Wartenberg owned the controlling interest in the Johnson Meat Company of Bismarck and had extensive holdings in cattle and horses there. He was a member of the Elks, Moose and Eagles. He leaves the mother, Mrs. Jennette Wartenberg; a sister, Julia, both of No. 1464 West Ninth street, and a brother, Walter Wartenberg, who accompanied the body to this city from Arizona.

STORY OF WRONG WINS HIM DECREE.

MARRIED YOUNG, PARTED SOON, HE TESTIFIES.

Tale of Illicit Love, and Her Letter of Confession, Gains a Divorce for Man Whose Brief Wedded Career was Checked with Pain and Loss of Romance.

"She told me she liked my ways," I was always a gentleman. She said she did not like the other fellow."

Harry H. Jones, 23 years old, thus addressed Judge Wood in an annual suit yesterday. He also asserted that he had been forced into a home in a letter that he claims, she had written to B. Swartz, stating that she was going to put the child in a home and that she was Swartz's name. The letter ends with the sentence: "You will get all that's coming to you."

The facts as Harry stated them to the court were all in his favor. He showed that Velma telephoned and wrote to him, that he visited her at her home in Inglewood and took her to church or on a ramble through the countryside. In a hearing way he told how she displayed great affection for him, selecting dark streets where they rambled, and vacant houses, where they sat upon the porch steps.

Harry's sister explained that he was brought up in a straight manner, and when the trouble broke, how he made a confidant of her. She advised him to marry the girl. The court granted the decree.

DECREE GRANTED.

WOULD GIVE UP ALL.

Mrs. Magdalene E. French was unhappy in California, and, according to the statements of Mrs. Eva G. French of Pasadena, mother of the husband, in Judge Wood's court yesterday, Magdalene begged Mr. French to allow her to obtain a divorce to New York, as she was still young, and that this was too much, and "then she said she would give up her child to return to New York, as she was still young and attractive enough to find happiness and wealth."

Constance Jones, a family friend, testified that she saw Mrs. French in New York and tried to persuade her to return to her husband, but she told him she would think of coming back. Judge Wood granted Mr. French a decree, and under an agreement the child of the couple will divide the time between the parents.

IN AND OUT ABOUT THE COURTS.

DISOLUTION. The Home Makers filed a petition for dissolution yesterday. The resolution to dissolve was passed at a meeting of the stockholders, December 31, 1916, all claims against the corporation having been satisfied. More than two-thirds of the outstanding stock was represented at the meeting. The Los Angeles Investment Company owned 7,818,763 shares of the $2,250,000 shares outstanding.

NO INFRINGEMENT. Charging that the Weber Baking Company had infringed on a bread wrapper which the Bradford Baking Company had made familiar to the trade, the latter corporation made a strong effort yesterday to show, in the trial of its suit for $125,000 damages, that the wrappers were sufficiently similar to deceive the trade. Judge Taft, however, gave judgment in favor of the defendant corporation, which was represented by Attorney Thomas K. Kase.

WIFE WAS GAY.

A question asked Marcus Arnet Woodward by Attorney Vincent Moran yesterday elicited the information that Mrs. Olive Blanche Woodward disappeared about the same time that a motion-picture man quit frequenting his usual haunts in this city. Mr. Woodward, whose suit for divorce was being tried by Judge Wood, told the court that his wife devoted much of her time to gay cafes. The decree was granted.

MAY LAY RAIL.

GETS TEMPORARY PERMIT. The Salt Lake, which was enjoined from proceeding with the construction of its branch line from Pico station through Whittier into orange country, pending the termination of the suit of Mrs. Harriet W. R. Strong to register her property tax on the line, yesterday was permitted by a modified order issued by Judge York yesterday to lay a temporary track over Mrs. Strong's property for the transportation of steam shovels and other equipment. Mrs. Strong claims that the construction of the railroad line will obstruct a public highway, known as Main street, the principal thoroughfare of Picoville, the dream city of Gov. Pio Pico.

HE WANTS BACK.

DUCK HUNTERS TESTIFY.

Crack duck hunters of Southern California were in Judge Shenk's court yesterday as witnesses in the suit of Kenneth Freund against the Chico Gun Club, asking that the latter be compelled to reimburse him, with representative privileges. The testimony showed that a member who owned one share of stock of the Chico Land and Water Company transferred the stock to Mr. Freund, who was, by reduction, covering also two other men, given the privilege of shooting on the gun-club grounds. The representative privileges were later terminated by the club directors. Judge Shenk took the question under submission.

LOVE FADES.

The mating of 19 and 14, in the persons of Clifford G. Fowler and Elsie Margaret Fowler, terminated at the end of five years in a suit brought by the wife charging desertion. Mrs. Fowler, told Judge Wood yesterday that her husband had asked her to return to him, but that, though she admitted she loved him at that time, she would not go back because he had no home to take her to. Mr. Fowler, in a cross-complaint, which he dismissed, also alleged desertion. The court denied Mrs. Fowler a decree.

INJUNCTION SUIT.

W. B. Melville, who owns property in road improvement district No. 55, filed suit against the county yesterday to enjoin it from proceeding with the paving of Vine street, near Glenview. The complaint alleges that there were irregularities in the manner of the Board of Supervisors' publishing notices of intention.

NOT GUILTY.

S. G. Johnson of Long Beach was found not guilty of a hearing yesterday in a hearing before Superior Judge Willis yesterday. Johnson, who is 50 years old, said he was unable to work.

INCORPORATIONS.

The Silver Swan Social Society, Incorporated, B. L. Haskell, T. P. Perry, L. H. H. V. Peabody and David G. Hatheway; the California Panel and Weaver Company, Incorporated, Howell Baker, Charles Hamel and Al C. Boemiller, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $260.

AD MAN TO WED.

The wedding of Oliver W. Holmes, local advertising man, and Miss Magdalene D. Hall, will be celebrated at the home of Rev. David F. Howe, pastor of the Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church, No. 1066 South Bonnie Brae street, at 11 o'clock this morning. Following the ceremony the couple will start on a wedding trip to last two weeks. They will be at home at No. 223 North Robinson street after February 5. Mr. Holmes is a resident of Los Angeles. Miss Frances M. Holmes, in the Holmes Advertising Agency, with offices in the Lamer Building, was born 12 years old and the bride is 28.

BAER WON'T TAKE JOB IN NEW YORK.

RETURNED FROM ORIENT, OXY'S EX-PRESIDENT RESISTS.

Will not Return to that Institution, He Says—Health Much Improved by Long Trip, but He will Play Golf and "Loaf" a While Longer.

Former President John Willis Baer of Occidental College, who recently returned from a 20,000-mile trip to the Orient, taken for the benefit of his health, yesterday announced he will not accept a pending call to educational work in New York. He further stated it is his desire to remain permanently in Southern California, though he will not return to the presidency of Occidental.

Dr. Baer is much improved in health as a result of his tour, that he announced in November and embraced the call to educational work in Hawaii, Japan, China and the Philippines. Still, his health is such that he cannot accept the call to work for two or three months. He states he has made no definite plans for the future.

Just now, according to his own announcement, he is a "loafer," in the sense that he is not actively engaged in any work.

SHE CONFESSES ALL.

Girl's Statement Puts Different Aspect on Dance Hall Killing.

After shielding her sweetheart for several days, a young Mexican girl yesterday gave information to the Sheriff's office which resulted in the arrest of a man who was in his arrest, and which puts a different aspect on the circumstances surrounding the killing of Pedro Morales by Maxim Castellano at a dance in Compton Tuesday night. Her lover, the officers state, is E. Kontora, who is in the County Jail.

The girl asserts she was with Castellano when he slashed Castellano with a knife and the latter fired in self-defense and that Morales was shot down. Hereafter it was the belief of officers that the murder was deliberate.

VILLA, PLEASE WRITE.

Manuel Garcia, former officer with Villa in Mexico, was sentenced to the chain gang yesterday, following his conviction on a charge of burglary. He went into the room of Charles Thomas, while the latter was absent, it appears, and took a few hours' sleep and some wearing apparel.
